Mayor, Two Councilmembers Sworn In During City Council Meeting

PEACHTREE CORNERS, GA, Jan. 20, 2016 – Judge Charles Barrett, III swore in the Mayor and two Councilmembers during the City Council’s monthly meeting on Jan. 19, 2016.

Mayor Mike Mason and Councilmembers Alex Wright (Post 3) and Lorri Christopher (Post 5) will serve four more years. The mayor and councilmembers ran unopposed during the November, 2015 elections.

“I know I speak for Councilmembers Wright and Christopher when I say that we are looking forward to the next four years,” said Mayor Mason. “The city has a bright future, and we’re excited to be a part it.”

Councilmember Phil Sadd (Post 1), who also ran unopposed, was unable to attend and will be sworn in at the City Council’s Feb. 16 meeting. He will also serve four more years.

Mason, Sadd, Wright and Christopher have served on the City Council since the city was founded four years ago. Voters passed a referendum establishing the new City of Peachtree Corners in November, 2011.

The new city of nearly 40,000 residents officially became the county's 16th city on July 1, 2012. Since incorporation, city leaders have made great strides including developing plans for a Town Center which will become the focal point for the community.

The Town Center, which is expected to break ground later this year, will feature restaurants, retail shops, townhomes and a 2-acre town green for community gatherings. The city also has plans to develop a multi-use trail that will wind throughout the community of nearly 40,000 residents.
