Peachtree Corners City Manager Announces His Retirement

PEACHTREE CORNERS, GA, June 22, 2016 – Julian Jackson, Peachtree Corners’ first city manager, announced Tuesday that after nearly three decades in public service, he was stepping away from public life to retire and enjoy a more leisurely lifestyle.

Jackson, who began Oct. 1, 2012 as the new city’s first city manager, played an intricate part in the forming of the city and putting into place the foundations to ensure it operated efficiently and economically.

“We will always be indebted to Julian for his efforts in getting Peachtree Corners operational,” said Mayor Mike Mason. “We have counted on his wisdom, advice and guidance. I and the city council wish him the very best in his retirement.”

Before joining Peachtree Corners Jackson was the city administrator in the City of Monroe for 12 ½ years, He began his career working for the State of Florida, he worked as Finance Director for the City of Perry, Fla., and held other city management positions over the years. He was the Assistant City Administrator for Roswell before moving to Monroe.

“It is with sincere appreciation and thanks that I must tender my resignation as City Manager for the City of Peachtree Corners,” said Jackson. “It has been probably the greatest honor of my professional life to have been selected as Peachtree Corners’ first city manager.”

Jackson’s last day in office will be August 3, 2016.
