FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

City to Establish Community Resource Program

PEACHTREE CORNERS, GA, June 23, 2015 – There are many in need in our community and finding assistance can be a daunting process. Wading through a maze of websites and phone numbers can be an overwhelming process for those seeking family or financial help.

To assist, the city is launching a community resources program which will be a catalyst for providing a resource for those in need. The program brings at least three important benefits to a community:

- Serves as a clearinghouse for information
- Provides a point of contact for those in need and those providing service
- Facilitates awareness and education about resources

The first important step is to assemble a core group to establish a Community Resource Program committee. “This is a wonderful way to get involved in our community,” said Councilmember Jeanne Aulbach (Post 4). “We need people who are passionate, committed and willing to work.”

The committee’s responsibilities will encompass identifying their work program, creating flyers, brochures, exploring the creation of a website and developing a Community Resources Guide for Peachtree Corners.

“There are many in our community who will benefit from the program,” said Mayor Mike Mason. “I’m delighted we’ll soon be able to offer the service to our citizens.”
